

THEIR ONE BEST GAME

AS VIEWED BY MODERN PITCHING STARS

BY BILLY EVANS

Written Especially for This Paper by the Famous American League Umpire.

IN LOOKING over the record of Joe Benz, the crack spitball pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, the average fan would pick out a game against Cleveland to be his one best performance. On May 31, 1914, Joe had the White Sox hitless, but through errors on the part of his team, he was unable to cross the plate. Chicago winning the game 6 to 1. However, if one should ask Joe Benz what he regards as his best pitching feat since he joined the majors, Joe would point to a game he pitched in the city series with the Cubs in 1913.

Spitball Experts Battled.
After the Sox had won the first game of the series 8 to 4, the Cubs went into the lead by capturing the second game 4 to 3 in 11 innings, and the third contest in easy fashion, 8 to 0. The Sox came back with a 2 to 0 win, making the series two all. The fifth game, which meant so much to both clubs, was put up by Joe Benz by manager Calhoun. For his opponent Benz had Larry Cheney, the star of the Chicago pitching staff. It was a battle between two master exponents of the spitball. The contest was staged October 12, 1913, at the National league park in Chicago.

Both Pitchers Worked Well.
Benz was on edge for this very important game and gave one of the greatest exhibitions of his career. Although Cheney was hit rather hard, he tightened in the pitcher, and in the first nine innings of a play a triple by Harry Lord, three doubles, two by John Collins, and one by Berper and three singles were wanted by the Sox in a vain effort to put over a run. When a base hit meant the ball game, Cheney was always master of the situation. Benz, on the other hand, was moving the Cubs down with monotonous regularity. In the 11th inning, a double by Lord, singles by Collins and Fournier, and a steal home by Collins netted the Sox two runs and the game 2 to 0. In 11 innings Benz allowed only three hits, one of them a double. He did not issue a base on balls and struck out nine men. The three Cubs who got on through their hits were left stranded.

Best Game Against Naps.
The records show that the best game Benz worked was against the Naps. Not a hit was made by the Cleveland team, and had not his support wavered, the visitors would have been blanked. The only tally made by the Naps came in this way. Wood hit to shortstop Weaver, who threw badly to first. Wood moving up to second on the error. Alcindor hit to Weaver, who threw to Alcindor third to get Wood. The ball beat Wood, and he would have been an easy out had not Alcindor, after touching the runner dropped the ball. Berger took Graney's hard hit and doubled up Alcindor, but Wood in the meantime had crossed the plate. Copyright 1915, by the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

Flush Your Blood Get it Cleansed
Remarkable Remedy That Works All Through Your Body.

When you put a tablespoonful of R. S. S. into your stomach it gets straight into your blood. In less than five minutes it has become a wave of restorative influence wherever the blood has circulated. Does this read like magic? But it is absolutely true. Those powerful digestive juices in the stomach can not change the medicinal effect of R. S. S. The liver can not burn it. The lungs, skin and kidneys excrete it only after R. S. S. has set in motion millions of cells and nerves to throw off the countless germs that have infected every part of the body. And as R. S. S. continues to battle those troublesome pests that gather in the form of pimples, boils, eczema, acne, catarrhs, rheumatism, or other so-called blood disorders, it causes into action a myriad of strange but well-understood processes called leukocytes that actually devour or change or convert disease germs so they are readily and quickly cast out of the body. It is probably the best appreciated blood medicine known. You will find R. S. S. on sale in nearly every drug store in the U. S. Get a bottle today. And if your case is peculiar, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 105 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is conducted by a noted physician.

BAT NELSON LIKES JOHNSON'S LOOKS

HAVANA, Cuba, March 24.—Batting Nelson, greatest of all champions, looked over Jack Johnson this week while the negro was starting his training for the battle with Jess Willard, scheduled for this city on Sunday, April 4. Nelson is rooting for Willard to win, but at the same time is fair enough to Johnson to express a frank opinion regarding the latter's condition.

"Johnson looks fat to me," declares the Durand Dane. "But he is not carrying so much fat but what it can be worked off in the training he must do before meeting Willard. His wind appears to be excellent. I saw him work 24 minutes of the hardest kind of symmetrical exercises without taking a long breath."

What impressed me most about Johnson was the great ease with which he worked. Boxing and bag-punching, as well as rope-skipping, goes through without an effort. He never takes a hard breath. His lung power seems to be perfect. His heart action is strong and without the usual skips found in finding athletes. I saw him fight Jeffries in Reno, and with the exception of five years in his age he still looks the perfect fighting machine."

"Against Willard he will find greater strength in an opponent than ever before; also greater reach and height. I naturally want Jess to win, but he must be better than any white heavyweight of the last ten years to whip this negro."
